SEARCHERS—These two young ladies turned out in their Easter finest for the annual Lions Club Easter egg hunt at the airport Sunday. More than 150 youngsters hunted for 105 dozen brightly colored eggs. Danielle Baker, 17 months, found the prize egg among the toddler group while Jacob

Memro was the winner in the 5-9 group with Sam Pope tops among 10 to 12-year-olds. The three each won $5. Two live bunnies weren't so lucky; they were captured by eager young searchers. (Gary Bowman photo)

Local Masons to celebrate 'Public Schools Week'

By John Wood

In 1920 Public Schools Week was initiated by the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of California and since that time has annually called upon the citizenry to rededicate themselves toward the continuation and perfection of our public schools system.

This year Public Schools Week will be observed April 18-22. On April 19 there will be an evening program beginning with a spaghetti dinner in the multipurpose room from 6 to 7:30 p.m. jointly sponsored by the Covelo Masons, the Chamber of Commerce and the 4-H group. The proceeds will go towards sending Sara Hurt to the citizenship training conference, "4-H Citizenship / Washington Focus" to be held July 2-9 in Washington, D.C.

After the dinner the Masons of Covelo Lodge #231 F&AM, led by John Wood, chairman, and Al Stegall, co-chairman of the Covelo Masonic Public Schools Committee, will present a short awards ceremony followed by an open house to be held at the local schools.

During Public Schools Week, and particularly at the open house on April 19, the community is invited to visit the public schools and see just what is being done to give our future leaders a good basic education. The teachers and students are looking forward to showing the progress they have made throughout the school year. The event is an opportunity for everyone, whether parents of school children or not, to visit, ask questions, view the students' achievements and find out how to help keep the public educational system working smoothly and efficiently.

The future of this state and nation lies in the hearts and minds of youth in school today who need our interest and encouragement which we can give by participating in Public Schools Week.

4 HOUR SHUTDOWN:

PG&E to cut power April 20

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. Tuesday announced it will conduct a "planned outage" of electric service to Round Valley for approximately four hours on Wednesday, April 20.

PG&E's Willits manager, Jack Kiely, told the News the power curtailment is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. and is expected to last until 2 p.m. He said that company crews will be working to repair damaged poles in the mountains west of Covelo. Several poles supporting the high voltage power lines which bring electricity to the valley have been damaged by storm caused slides this winter.

"I can just about guarantee that power to the valley will be knocked out in the very near future if we don't get those lines fixed," Kiely stated. He noted the poles are in very hard to reach locations which could prolong any power outages arising from further storm damage.

The utility company manager said customers should be receiving mailed notices from PG&E announcing the outage.

Spring musical set for this weekend

Drama and choir classes from grades six through 12 will combine their talents for the spring musical, "Once Upon a Mattress," the story of the princess and the pea, tomorrow and Saturday nights. The curtain of the multipurpose room will rise at 8 p.m.

Princess Winnifred will be played by Kelly Hurt; Elton Dean will play Prince Dauntless; and the King and Queen will be Cove Gibbs and Shelly Williamson. Vicki Wilkins plays the sorceress and the jester will be played by Russ Schlossnagle. Liz LeGrand will play Lady Larkin and Sir Harry will be played by Reid Dixon. Hiromi Yamasaki is Mabelle and Cindy McQueen will be the minstrel. Nicole Houts plays the unlucky princess number 12. Knights will be played by junior high school students Tracy Cardwell, Sonya Moore and Janice Young. Ladies will be Sonia Hurt, JoAnn O'Ferrall and Michelle

McQueen.

Terry Folsom is directing the production and Rose Baschal is the musical director. Several parents and community members have volunteered time to help make the play a success. Set design will be done by Kathy Sawley, Jennifer Stegall is the choreographer. Roberta Hurt will help with makeup and LoRiver, a professional costume designer, is designing and making the costumes.

The orchestra will consist of Paul Brower on piano, with Karl Baschal playing bass, Joan Phillips playing flute and Diana Fairbanks on trombone.

The production is the largest to be presented in many years, and should be well worth the admission price of $1 for children under the age of 12, $2 for adults and $5 for entire families. Cast members are now selling tickets, or they may be purchased at the door.

Festival explained

Editor:

Round Valley will be hosting its first annual Blackberry Festival Aug. 13-14. For the past eight months a committee of six people has been busily planning the agenda and activities for the festival, trying to place a heavy stress on "country flair" and "family fun." Music, provided by several town bands (including our own) will fill the air, a square dance, barbecue dinner, contests, art show, crafts and food booths will keep people busy. All this got started upon receiving a $1,600 grant from the Mendocino County Chamber of Commerce.

The Blackberry Festival was designed with three very specific goals in mind. The first goal is to promote tourism to our valley to boost its sagging economy. In order to draw a significant amount of people here, a festival must give tourists more incentive to come. The second goal is to give our local citizens a chance to profit themselves by selling their crafts and talents at the festival's craft booths. This part of the festival has taken the most careful planning because of the top priority given to our local citizens. Booth rentals will not be encouraged outside the valley because space is limited and the type of goods sold will need to be reviewed by the craft committee for approval before the contracts are final. The third goal is to unite our citizens for a common cause. Many people have been devoting many unselfish hours to see that the Blackberry Festival will happen. Without the efforts and cooperation from many people, the R.V.B.F. committee would have been discouraged long ago. We acknowledge that our first festival may be less than ideal but the important thing to remember is that this will be a start.

Women's Club seeks recipes for cookbook

The Covelo Women's Club announces it seeks recipes for a community cookbook it is assembling. The cookbook will go on sale during the local Blackberry Festival in August.

The club says it is especially interested in "old-time, Native American, vegetarian and special recipes from everyone in the community. We want the cookbook to represent all segments of our highly diverse community."

Every recipe submitted will be attributed to the contributor.

Recipes may be taken to Round Valley Farm Supply or mailed to Covelo Women's Club, P.O. Box 832, by April 12.

Business group to meet

The Round Valley Business Assn. will hold its regular monthly meeting on Saturday, March 19, the Community Blood Bank's mobile unit made its annual visit to Round Valley, giving local donors the opportunity to build up the community's reserve supply. Fifty conscientious donors showed up, but due to the high influx of colds and viruses nearly a third were deferred. Notwithstanding, 31 units of the life-sustaining fluid were drawn. The bank's registrar, Frances Daizell, stated the donors were all in good spirits and mentioned that those people who wish to give more than once a year can donate blood at the Ukiah Senior Citizens Center daily from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. Donors can give blood no more than five times in a one-year period, or no more than once every nine weeks.

Que Davidson, who annually organizes this valuable community drive expressed her thanks to the blood bank committee, everybody that came to give, and to the Mutual Aid Society, which furnished refreshments. She added, "The blood is free for anybody in the valley. All they have to do is call." For further information contact Que Davidson at 983-6684.

Spelling Contest

Mendocino County spelling whizzes will gather at Willits High School on Tuesday, April 12, at 10 a.m. for the county spelling championships which will qualify the winners to compete in the fourth annual California State High School Spelling Championships scheduled for Miramonte High School in Orinda on May 12.

Representing Round Valley High School will be freshmen Teri Sanders and Amy Wormington and senior Kenny Bossom. These three recently took top honors at a "spell-off" at the high school. The three top spellers from the county contest will go on to the state competition.

Including students in grades nine through 12, the state championship will feature prize money and trophies from sponsors who include the Greater Miramonte Orthographic Society, the Miramonte Parents Club, the Orinda Rotary Club and Rotary Clubs of California, and the Contra Costa County Office of Education.

Judges of the event in Willits will include Carol Rogina of the American Association of University Women and Roger Howard of the Ukiah Rotary Club, and the reader and pronouncer of words will be Mike Campbell, English instructor at Mendocino College. Luncheon for the contestants will be provided by the Ukiah Rotary Club.

Softball News

The high school softball team is alive and well this year, although the rain has done about everything it can to dampen the team's attempt at taking a league championship this year. The talent and spirit are still there, however, and given a little sunshine, the girls will be out to prove their talent.

With a field that has ranged from muddy to submerged, the girls have had to limit themselves to practices in the gymnasium, with an occasional outside hitting practice between rains. Three doubleheader ball games, the Willits Tournament, a local play day and several practice games have all been scrapped due to the heavy rainfall.

Mr. Miller will be meeting with other athletic directors this week to try to salvage the remainder of the season. One possibility will be not to make up the missed games, but end the season with an all-league tournament to decide this year's champs. Another consideration is to switch over to Wednesday/Saturday doubleheaders for the remainder of the season. The revised schedule will be printed in the Round Valley News.

Rain or shine, no one can question the quality of this year's local team. With six returning players, including two first-team all-league selections in the form of junior Suzanne Britton and sophomore Alison Arnold, Round Valley has the nucleus for a very competitive team this year. Senior Kelly Horne is back to holding down the pitching responsibilities, while Karla Tuttle is also returning to do the catching. Junior Tracy Krona will probably take over the second base responsibilities this year. Third year starter Vicki O'Ferrall has been working out at third base this season and seems to

Kindergarteners visit post office

By Donna Lim

The Round Valley Elementary School kindergarten class, as part of the public school writing program, went to visit the post office on March 16. We had been writing group letters to each other for a month; it was time to write an individual letter to a friend in class. Each child drew the name of a classmate and dictated his thoughts to the teacher. Then, in their "very best handwriting" the class copied their letters on good stationery. Finally it was time. Letters were gripped in hand; dimes from the Chamber of Commerce Christmas tree decorating contest were clutched tightly.

Earl Vincent, our local postmaster, was all smiles as the kindergarteners inched up to the window and, one by one, plunked down their money and said, "May I have a 20 cent stamp, please?"

After the stamps were affixed and the letters were dropped into the slot, we were treated to a behind the scenes look at the post office. Diane Smallwood escorted everyone around back to the other side of the slot, took out the letters and demonstrated how the mail is cancelled and sorted. We toured around the sacks, looked at the parcels, asked a million questions and met letter carriers Darlene and Rick.

Everyone wanted to stay longer, but amid many thanks, we waved goodbye, with thoughts of going home to wait for the mail. Earl was grinning as he was casing the last of our letters and commented, "The kids typed the addresses on the envelopes themselves, huh?" How did he know?

'Bambi' matinee set

By Debbie Gutierrez

This Sunday, April 10, a special matinee will take place in the multipurpose room at 1 p.m. Walt Disney's all-time favorite animated classic "Bambi" will be shown.

This heartwarming film captures nature's beauty as it tells the story of a young fawn's life. "Bambi" is a joyful celebration of life all ages will remember and treasure, and a marvelous way to issue in the beginning of spring.

Admission to the film, which is co-sponsored by Mendocino County Youth Project and Round Valley Cinema Club, is $1.

Farm Bureau to meet

The Farm Bureau will hold a meeting on Tuesday night, April 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Hall. The program will feature a report from the float committee for the Field Day parade and a demonstration given by the

A very talented group of first year players has been working hard to earn a starting position on the varsity team. These include junior Annette Hoaglen, sophomores Tonya Anderson and Tania Mota, and freshmen Bernadine Whipple, Michelle Downey, Serena Bye, Patricia Merrifield and Jennifer Sturgill.

If the skies stay clear and the district maintenance staff gets a couple of days to finally get on the field, there should be a game this Saturday against visiting Middletown High School. Game time is set for noon.

Road Trip

The girls' softball team will be on the road next week for their second annual "College Visitation." This year the team will be traveling to Chico State University, where they will tour the campus with the university's softball players. The girls will attend classes, study in the school library and watch a game between the Chico team and U-C at Davis. They are also scheduled to play in a couple of practice games with some of the local high schools in the area. A complete report of the trip will appear in a future issue of the Round Valley News.

Reno Weekend Raffle

How would you like to drive over to Sacramento some Friday, park your car and get on board an Amtrak train for a leisurely and relaxing ride over the Sierra to Reno? Upon arriving you would check into your reserved room at the famous Pioneer Hotel. In addition to the three-day, two-night stay at the hotel, you also would be provided with two breakfasts, a lunch, and a dinner, in addition to a paid evening cocktail show at Harrah's Hotel.

This entire package for two people could be yours simply by purchasing one or more tickets to the Round Valley High School softball raffle. Tickets are only $1 and may be purchased from any member of the club. The drawing will take place at 2 p.m. on May 8 at the annual Field Day rodeo. Winner need not be present to win. Participants must be at least 21 years of age. All proceeds will go towards the girls' athletic fees.

Field Day parade, event entry forms available

Field Day parade and rodeo entry forms are now available, according to an announcement from the local Future Farmers of America chapter.

The theme of this year's Field Day is "Ride 'Em Cowboy." The traditional event will be held Mother's Day weekend, May 7-8.

All groups, organizations and individuals wishing to participate in this year's event are encouraged to obtain, fill out and return the forms quickly, the announcement stated.

The parade's categories will be the same as last year. First place winners will receive a trophy and a ribbon. Ribbons will be awarded for second through fifth places in each category.

Five students tour San Francisco

By Valrie Thompson
On March 18 and 19 five students from Round Valley High School participated in a Mendocino County Schools enrichment program which took them on a cultural tour of San Francisco. Round Valley students Sara Hurt, Annette Hoaglen, Chris Fiorella, Daneen McCarty and Tracy Krona were among the group of 48 advanced high school students from Mendocino County who went on the educational expedition. After a sack lunch at Embarcadero Center, the group attended the American Conservatory Theatre's production of "Morning At Seven," a humorous play about the lives of four sisters during the late 1930s. Three of the actors stayed after the play to answer students' questions. After a quick dinner at Pier 39 the group went to Golden Gate Park for the Laserium Concert, "The Beatles, Music That Changed The World." A laserium concert combines a light show, which is more brilliant than the most elaborate fireworks display, and music to create an awesome experience. The students then checked into the Fort Mason Youth Hostel, where they met many people from all parts of the world, and squeezed in some time at Fisherman's Wharf before curfew. The next day the group had breakfast at the University of San Francisco and a grand tour of the campus. From there it was a short walk to Haight Street to do some shopping and pick up lunch to eat in the park. While at the park students visited the De-Young Museum, Steinhart Aquarium and the Japanese tea gardens and heard a rock group, "The Light," who performed for the Saturday afternoon free concert in the park. Sixty tired people piled into the bus at 5 p.m. for the return trip, with Round Valley students finally arriving home at 11:30 p.m.

Local team wins tournament

By Eddie Whipple
Two basketball teams from Round Valley traveled to San Jose on Friday, March 18, to compete in the 13th annual basketball tournament for men's, women's, youth girls' and youth boys' teams and Pee Wee leagues. During the four-day tournament the games were played in three different gyms, including the San Jose City College gym.
A Pee Wee league team represented Round Valley and consisted of Filmore Smith, Lew Whipple, Charlie Want, Dennis Want, Steve Dalsen, Kenny Frank, Ed Reeves, Ruben Reyes, Tim Elliott and Race Hoaglen.

Hoaglen, 4 points. They all received individual trophies.
The youth team representing Round Valley was Todd Thomson, Evan Duke, Darren Avalos, Tim Dalsen, Matt Dalsen, John Nelson, Arvid Hoaglen and Ransom Anderson. The first game with the San Jose Rockets was an easy 48 to 14 win. We lost the second game to Lakeport by a score of 40 to 47. Our next game was with another San Jose team, which we won 48 to 20. Then we played Lakeport again and beat them 59 to 38. Since both Lakeport and Round Valley had one loss apiece, they played for the championship, which Round Valley won 37 to 30.

Todd Thomson, Evan Duke, John Nelson and Tim Dalsen made the all stars and received sweat jackets. All the players on the championship team were given individual trophies.

John Cunnan: an artist with wood

By Gary Bowman

"Thou shalt make a table of acacia wood: two cubits shall be the length thereof and a cubit the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof..." These instructions, taken from the 25th chapter of Exodus (King James Version) of the Bible, were the basis for the construction of a communion table for a local church.

When Bernice Williams decided to give a communion table to the Calvary Baptist Church, she contacted local artisan John Cunnan. He explains, "She basically wanted a table that had the scripture 'This do ye in remembrance of me,' which were the instructions Christ gave to His disciples at the Last Supper, in establishing the communion service. When I originally got the job of building a communion table, I didn't want to just build something that was my own idea."

Searching the Bible for divine design, he came across the Exodus account of Moses leading the Israelites through the wilderness. In the 25th chapter, God tells His people to build a sanctuary for Him to dwell in. This portable sanctuary, called a tabernacle, was built of freewill offerings, and, when completed, was carried by the Israelites through their wilderness wanderings and into the Promised Land. Within the tabernacle were six pieces of furniture, one of which was the Table of Shewbread (Showbread). Twelve loaves of unleavened bread, to be eaten by the Hebrew priests of the Sabbath, were kept on the table. Cunnan explains the significance of the Table of Shewbread: "I felt the Table of Shewbread, that was revealed to Moses, must be a forerunner, or pre-communion table. And the fact that the bread was on the table seemed to testify to that."

In using the Old Testament table measurements, he felt there was particularly special importance

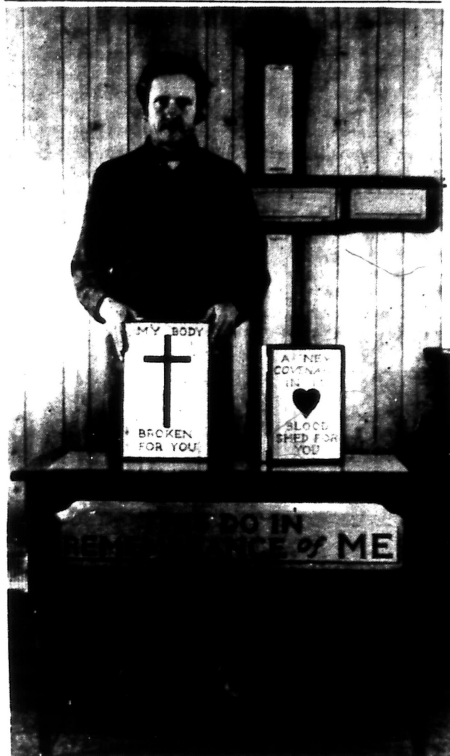

"In this modern world, where everything is changing so rapidly, there is no firm ground to stand on. I think that people have a deep need for something solid that they can base their life on, that is the same from one age to the next. That's what the word of God offers."

After drawing plans for the table, Cunnan began actual construction in the fall of 1982. Using the cubit, or the length of the arm from the end of the middle finger to the elbow, the table's dimensions roughly translate to three feet long, 1½ feet wide, and 2¼ feet high. Whereas the Table of Shewbread was to be made of acacia wood and overlaid with pure gold, he chose, for practical reasons, to use a golden colored wood, California bay laurel. He then framed the table with black walnut from Covelo, to enhance the golden color.

Upon completion in late December, he displayed the table at the local Christmas Crafts Faire, before presenting it to the Calvary Baptist Church, where it will be used during the Holy Communion service for the placement of bread and wine representing Christ's body and blood.

About the artist, John Cunnan attended California State University at Long Beach, majoring in industrial arts, with an interest in becoming a woodworking teacher. He came to Covelo in 1970, going to work gardening and building a house. He was later hired by Alan Chadwick to build a chicken house for the Garden Project, and stayed with the project teaching woodcraft, turning the old chickenhouse into a wood working shop. After the Garden Project dissolved in the late 1970s, he co-founded the Round Valley Woodwrights with Frank Weisman and brother Robert Cunnan at the Island Foundation. Presently, the Cunnan brothers operate a woodworking shop at Round Valley Farms. He recently constructed a communion table, altar and altar rail for the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Ukiah, under the direction of the Rev. David Patton, formerly of Covelo. Cunnan feels the tabernacle has special significance today, and "is not something that should be lost in the dusty pages of the Bible." He concludes, "There should be a sanctuary on every street corner instead of a beer joint."

Burning permits required

Since April 1, written burning permits are needed for all open burning in the rural areas of Mendocino County, state forest ranger Thomas L. Neil has announced.

Written permits must be obtained for any outdoor burning including incinerators, trash, weeds and grass, slash, or any range improvement burning operations. All burning also must conform to Air Pollution Control Regulations.

Burning permits may be obtained from the California Department of Forestry offices north of Covelo from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Later, when the director of the Department of Forestry officially declares the opening of fire season, all forestry stations will be open seven days a week.

Covelo residents who live within the Covelo Fire Protection District can obtain permits at Country Crafts and Yardage, located in the Polsley building.

Steam engine serves as phonics teacher

By Colleen Weitzman
What goes "ch, ch"? A class of first graders learning phonics, and a steam engine! When the class learned the "steam engine" sound, it became the perfect excuse to combine language studies with a science and history lesson.

The Open Court phonics program in use at the elementary school uses the mnemonic device of relating the sounds in the English language to sounds children are familiar with in everyday life.

Few children have had the experience of seeing, let alone hearing, a real live steam engine these days, so David Weitzman brought in his working models to demonstrate.

The children watched a boiling tea kettle to observe the energy in steam and to start thinking about how the boiler works in a steam engine. In the course of the demonstration students learned the parts of the steam engine — piston, cylinder, flywheel — and how the engine was hooked up to machines to do work.

For over 100 years steam engines provided the principal power that ran American industry and agricultural machines. Half a century ago steam engines could be heard in Round Valley, operating the flour mill, threshing wheat, and other farm chores. They're still around — teaching phonics skills.

Abundant Life

By Michael Boyland

The land of Palestine has two seas in it, the Sea of Gallilee and the Dead Sea. The Dead Sea is by far the larger of the two, being almost 50 miles long. The Sea of Gallilee is only 13 miles by seven.

But the difference between the two is far more than their size. The Sea of Gallilee receives water from many streams and rivers, but water also flows out of it through the river Jordan. The Sea of Gallilee is full of sweet fresh water, teeming with fish. Flocks of birds rest on its surface. Lush green vegetation grows down to the water's edge.

The Dead Sea, on the other hand, has no outlet. Water flows in from the Jordan River and from many springs and small streams. Much of this water is fresh and sweet, and tropical thickets grow beside the creeks. But there is no way water can flow out of the Dead Sea. At 1,280 feet below sea level it is the lowest spot on earth. There is nowhere for water to go. And the Dead Sea is dead.

The water is so salty that no fish can survive in the Dead Sea. Birds do not dart over it or rest on the surface. Its shores are barren, devoid of life. The only way it can lose water is by evaporation.

I think God had a purpose in placing those two bodies of water in the land in which He chose to reveal Himself through the events of the Old Testament and Gospels. They have a powerful spiritual message. If you both take in and give out, like the Sea of Gallilee, you live. If you take in without giving, as the Dead Sea does, you clog up and die.

The first place to give is God. He wants you to trust Him with your heart, your life, your future, so that He can give you eternal life. And God has so much to give, if we would only let Him. He gives life such as only He can give. He gives forgiveness. He gives security. He gives His Holy Spirit to all who come to Him. He gives talents, skills, material goods.

He gives to us so that we can share with others and receive more abundantly from the great Giver of gifts. His love is to be known and to be passed on.

A person who does not have an outlet for the good things God gives gets caught in resentments, in jealousy, in factions. The person who lets it pour out in love and service can receive the abundant life that Jesus Christ came to give.

Living Water

By ERNEST WEST

Tension was at its highest peak at the suicide prevention center. The voice being amplified by the wall speaker in the crisis room was that of a young man who "just called to have someone to talk to while he was going." Kathy, the volunteer that had the call, maintained a calm and even voice in contrast to the anxiety written all over her face.

He had had a bad argument with his wife. She had left with the baby... she said she was going to "think it over" at her parents' home. He was sure she was not coming back. He had turned the gas on... "You're probably too busy to talk to me," he was saying. "No problem, things are quiet here tonight," she answered.

"Are you sure your wife... what is her name?" "Sally." "Are you sure Sally has left for good? Maybe she is on her way back home right now with your baby... Tell me about your little girl... I bet she is really adorable."

And Kathy went on trying to help him find reasons to live. He began to listen and hope. But he became too weak and disoriented to do anything. She had been able to get his father-in-law's name from him. Another volunteer called him. They called the rescue squad which got to him just in time.

Jesus was entering Jerusalem for the last time. He stopped on a hill to gaze at the city of His own people. He said, "If you, even you, had known on this day what would bring you peace..." (Luke 19:42). He longed to make them know the things that would turn them from destroying themselves.

His own specially chosen nation had expected Him to destroy their earthly enemies. They thought this would bring them peace. When they saw that the enemy He came to destroy was in their hearts, they refused to undergo the surgery needed. They rejected and tried to destroy Him as an enemy. They destroyed themselves... as a nation.

The Lord continues to offer His peace. He is telling us in every way He can what will bring each one of us peace. He is in the crisis room all the time now (Hebrews 7:25). He is talking hope and rescue all the time. He is saying, "Take hold while there is still time. I am preparing all who will be ready for Me to come for them. I know you can't do much. Take hold of My peace now. I am coming just as soon as everyone has decided."

Homeowners reminded: time to file tax exemption

Duane Wells, Mendocino County Assessor, announces that anyone who has purchased a home since March 1 of last year may now file for the homeowners' property tax exemption if they have not already done so. The statutory time period for filing the exemption claim is between March 1 and April 15 in order to receive the maximum exemption of $7,000 full value.

Homeowners who fail to file prior to this deadline are entitled to file before the extended deadline of Dec. 1, 1983, in order to receive a partial exemption of a maximum of $5,600 full value.

Wells explained that the eligibility requirements for the homeowners' exemption are that the claimant must be the owner of the property and must be occupying the property as their principal place of residence as of 12:01 a.m. on March 1, 1983. He added that summer homes, cabins and second homes do not qualify.

The Assessor's office mailed approximately 1,000 application forms recently to new property owners who may have become eligible for the exemption since the lien date last year. If a new homeowner has not received such an application, he or she should contact the Assessor's office as soon as possible.

Wells also stated that any taxpayer who claimed the homeowners' exemption on their 1982-83 tax bill and has since become ineligible for the exemption must notify the Assessor. Failure to notify the Assessor of ineligibility by Dec. 10 will result in penalties as prescribed by law. He explained that termination notices are provided each November with property tax bills for this purpose.

Anyone who may have questions regarding the status of their exemption should contact the Assessor's office at 468-4311.

Sunrise services were held Easter morning at Inspiration Point overlooking beautiful Round Valley. Several of the valley churches were represented at this inspirational gathering. Everyone gathered around a bonfire while services were conducted by Pastor Michael Boyland of the Presbyterian Church. The speaker was Pastor Ray Hulls of the Faith Tabernacle Church.

Easter songs were sung by the group.

Good Friday services were held at the Methodist Church with most of the valley churches represented at the gathering.

Speakers were Pastor Matthew Seargeant from the Methodist Church, Pastor Michael Boyland from the Presbyterian Church, Pastor Ray Hulls from Faith Tabernacle, Pastor Ernest West from the Seventh-day Adventist Church and Pastor Larry Wise from Lighthouse Pentecostal Church. Representing Pastor Tom Nace, who could not be there, from the Assembly of God Church was the youth group leader Richard McBride.

About 40 people gathered to join in the inspirational services.

Approximately 40 people gathered at Our Lady Queen of Peace Chapel to celebrate and take part in the pascal meal and in the traditional rituals on Holy Thursday. Families were together for this very sacred occasion.

On Good Friday the Senior Citizens Center served a traditional Easter dinner with ham and all the trimmings and celebrated Ed Davis' 76th birthday with a card and the birthday song. The center's bingo set, which was purchased through donations to the center, has arrived and bingo games will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Mary Mooy of Sonora

visited her sister-in-law Anna McClure in Covelo from Friday to Monday of Easter week. Mary reports that Anna is doing much better and is home from the hospital.

Mary is the wife of a former Covelo doctor, Dr. J. Edward Mooy, who is now deceased. She lives in Sonora, near her son John Mooy, who teaches. Mary keeps active and recently returned from Washington state, where she spent two months caring for an ailing sister.

Upon her return home, her little granddaughter became ill. Because they were not sure of the nature of her illness, Mary took her to her home to keep her younger brother from contagion and nursed her back to health.

Diane and Phil Short and son Troy were here from Dixon visiting Diane's parents, the John Augustines Sr., and Phil's mother Elsie Short and other members of their families.

Gregg and George Koumarios Jr. went to San Francisco over Easter week to visit their grandmother Emaura Stilianos and aunt Flo Dunn. They also visited their aunt Adrienne Landis in Millbrae and uncle Nick Koumarios in Brisbane. They especially enjoyed fishing off the Pacific pier, going bowling and going to the theater, all activities that are not possible in Covelo.

Stephanie Amos returned home Monday from her Easter vacation trip to visit her parents Karen and Steve Amos and her two sisters Terry and Robin, who live in Albany. When her parents moved from Covelo last year, Stephanie chose to stay in Covelo to finish high school.

Ruby and Milo Stevens had Renee and Aita Thakali with their baby daughter as their guests for Easter dinner at their home. Also attending the dinner was Renee's mother Dorothy Gemmill of Grand Lodge, Michigan, a suburb of Lansing. She will be in Covelo another two weeks visiting the Thakalis.

Gene and Maureen Petsch gathered with their family at the home of their son Karol Petsch and his wife Arlene in Willits.

Their daughter Diane and husband Phil Williams of Santa Rosa were there, as was their other daughter Pam Petsch with a friend Mark Wilkinson of Ukiah. Their son Dan Petsch and his family were unable to be there.

Randy Vann spent Easter week in Arcata with his dad Darwin Vann. At the end of the week his sister Donna Vann of Bay-side and her fiance John Arkley of Eureka brought Randy home. The family got together on Saturday for their Easter as Donna and John had to drive back to Eureka on Easter Sunday because of previous commitments.

Karen Vann's mother Betty Philbrick drove up from Ukiah to visit the family over Easter.

Ronnie Vann left for Arcata last Monday and will be staying with his dad. He has found employment there.

Cheryl and Gary Pinches went to Ukiah over Easter to visit Gary's sister and husband Elaine and Rich Gandola, who are building a new home in Deerwood Park overlooking the Ukiah valley.

John and Leslie Miller and children made two trips to the Bay Area over Easter vacation. On Saturday after school was out, they took foreign exchange student Hitoshi Igarashi to Fremont to visit friends. Hitoshi had stayed with the family in Fremont on a previous exchange student program in 1981.

The Millers visited with John's dad and wife Conrad and Norma Miller in Piedmont. They returned to Covelo on Wednesday and brought Hitoshi back to Covelo. Hitoshi lives with the Chuck McFadin family in Covelo while he attends high school here.

John and Leslie then returned to Piedmont on Saturday to have Easter with the senior Millers.

Valrie Thompson spent her Easter vacation in Oakdale, where she visited her mother Joan Thompson and two sisters Vivian and Vickie. Valrie managed to get in some horseback riding, take a trip to the snow for fun and visited with friends from San Francisco that she had not seen for quite sometime.

Valrie is a busy person who teaches U.S. History, world history and marriage and family life, supervises the independent study program, coaches volleyball and basketball and is advisor for the junior class at Round Valley High School.

Sid and Dottie Dale visited their daughter and husband Leslie and Milton Hurt over Easter. The Dales live in Redwood Valley.

NOTICE TO PG&E CUSTOMERS

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. plans a power outage for all of Round Valley from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday, April 20, weather permitting.

PG&E crews will be working to repair damage to electric power transmission lines in the mountains west of Covelo caused by slides this winter. The company expects the work done during this planned outage will minimize the risk of unplanned outages which could result from fallen power lines.

In the event of inclement weather, the work will be performed Thursday, April 21, instead.

Grace [continued]

Sonia Hurt went to Eureka the first few days of Easter week to visit her mother and husband Betty and Dick Dryden. Milton and Leslie took her as far as Garberville, where her mother met them. Sonia had to come home for her 4-H group's bake sale.

Marlene and Gordon Crawford and their two sons Sean and Jason spent their Easter vacation in Fremont, where they visited Marlene's mother and two sisters. Their family get together was on Palm Sunday so that all of the family could be there. The Crawfords took the two boys to Golden Gate Park, where they visited the natural history museum, the aquarium and the planetarium. There was a band playing in the park and the family listened to the music for a while.

Hattie Clark's granddaughter Janet Coleman and her three daughters Shannon, Katie and baby Marjorie Lee visited her last week. They drove up from Fresno, where they live, and stopped overnight to visit Janet's aunt Claudia Clarke and cousins in Ukiah.

Hattie's son Warren drove up from Castro Valley for a short visit last week.

Larry and Paula Fugman and their two daughters Corey and Eleya spent their Easter vacation at Tiburon in Marin County visiting Paula's parents Joe and Frieda Engel. They reported a most relaxing week, spent taking in a few movies.

Larry is a first grade teacher with about 30 pupils in his class at Round Valley Elementary School.

Gleny Young is happily announcing the arrival of her fifth grandchild. Her son Arthur Young and wife Carol have a boy born March 30. He was named Jeremy Logan and weighed 8 lbs. The Arthur Youngs live in San Francisco.

John and Elaine Skeete and their son Jeff really had a memorable Easter vacation. They flew to Washington, D.C., and crammed in all of the sightseeing that could be done in a week. They were accompanied by their niece Tammy McAller, who joined them in San Francisco. While in Washington they were guests of Tammy's sister Tasha McAller, the ballerina who visited the Skeetes the first summer they spent in Round Valley.

Some of the highlights of their tour were the Capitol, the Jefferson Memorial, the Lincoln Memorial and the Library of Congress. They visited Mt. Vernon, toured historical Williamsburg and went to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

The Skeetes were most impressed by the metro system, which is a cross between a subway and Bart and moves huge crowds within very short periods of time.

The trip made history real to them.

The drive in on Covelo's main street will open on Friday morning, April 8, under a new name. The Burger Station. It is owned and run by Jim and Bonnie Adams.

Jim and Mary Louise Driscoll with their two children Jim III and Alison attended Easter services at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Ukiah. The focal point of the recently completed church is the handsome altar made for the church by John Cunnann of Covelo.

Hilda Wich is in Covelo visiting her son Peter, his wife Debbie and her granddaughter Michelle. Hilda is from Reno and has just returned from an extended trip to the east coast, where she visited her two daughters, Pete's sisters, in New Jersey and Virginia.

Michelle Brown is home again after spending Easter week in Sebastopol visiting her grandmother Frances Mills and several aunts and uncles.

Michelle's parents Les and Daisy Brown drove her to Ukiah, where she was met by her uncle Darrel Mills, who took her on to Sebastopol for the week. The next weekend Les and Daisy went to Sebastopol to spend Easter with Daisy's family and bring Michelle home. They were joined for the Easter weekend by Russ Brown, who is attending college in Susanville. Russ returned to Covelo with the family for a two-week visit.

Also joining the family in Sebastopol for Easter were Gerald and Frances Mills of Capitola and their sons John and Gregg and a friend of Gregg's. Saturday evening 15 members of the Mills family and Gregg's friend dined in Santa Rosa.

Les, Daisy, Russ and Michelle returned to Covelo Easter Sunday afternoon.

Drama program teaches telephone manners

By Frank Breathing
How do you report a fire? How do you answer the phone?

At the request of several parents, these basic skills were taught to students in the elementary school's drama program.

Through the generosity of Lew Florence, Continental Telephone's customer service manager in Garberville, four phones were made available to the program.

Many youngsters do not know their own home address or even the name of the street upon which they live because we live in such a "small town" environment. It was felt the training was needed as the young people could be at a loss to describe where they are should an emergency arise.

Law requires beehive registry

By Kelly Hurt
A new state law requires beehive registration. A law has been passed requiring beekeepers to register their hives and pay a fee to the county and, in some cases, the state. The law applies to all beekeepers no matter how many hives they own. The law is meant to help the Department of Food and Agriculture and the county agriculture commissioners strengthen apary inspection programs.

Provisions of the law are an adoption of a uniform registration fee of $10 statewide, change of registration date from Nov. 1 to Jan. 1 and placement of a state hive assessment on beekeepers with 40 or more colonies.

County crews go on 4-day week

County road crews began a four-days per week schedule of 10-hour days this week as part of the county Public Works Department's efforts to reduce its expenditures. The department announces the new schedule is being adopted on a "trial basis until further notice."

The department's announcement states: "It is anticipated that the new work week schedule will reduce travel costs of the road crews up to one-fifth, while also saving costs on regular road maintenance and storm damage repair and restoration, as the road crews will be working longer and more productive daily schedules."

The department announces its office in Ukiah will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays while the road crews will be on the job from 6:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on those days. All department functions will be closed on Fridays.

To comply with the requirement, recently adopted by the county's board of supervisors, that all county employees be furloughed for 40 hours in coming months, the department will not operate today (April 7), April 11, May 5 and May 9.

Handweavers to gather

Weaving and spinning enthusiasts are gearing up for the 30th annual Northern California Handweavers Conference to be held Saturday and Sunday, April 30 and May 1, at Redwood Empire Fairgrounds and Mendocino College, Ukiah.

The theme, "Secrets of the Loom," will be highlighted in many exhibits of weaving, spinning, commercials, lectures, and demonstrations. Saturday's program for conference registrants includes keynote speaker Barbro Bengtsson from Sweden, a panel discussion by Bay Area fashion designers, a fashion show and awards.

The public is invited to attend on Sunday, May 1, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Interested persons can visit the unusual weaving displays at guild booths, a professional art gallery, and weaving and spinning demonstrations by conference participants. A special section will feature children's activities. Commercial exhibitors will provide colorful displays of materials for textiles and new products for art crafts. Visitors may also enjoy sheep dog trials, border collie demonstrations, and a lamb barbecue hosted by the Woolgrowers Association.

For more information and/or registrations send a legal size, self-addressed stamped envelope to CNCH 83, 2081 Road E, Redwood Valley 95470.

Following the austerities of the Lenten season, the traditional spring housecleaning starts. Thank goodness we don't have to drag carpets out to hang on a line and beat the dirt out! Nor do we have to use curtain stretchers. Even so, spring housecleaning is still a chore. Casseroles made ahead of time are a great help.

Chicken Regal Casserole

1 large frying chicken, cut up; 1 cup flour, ¼ cup butter; 1 can cream of chicken soup, undiluted; 1½ cups water; 1 onion, chopped; 1 stalk celery, sliced finely; 1 tsp. thyme; salt and pepper; 1½ cups uncooked rice; and 1-12 oz. can whole kernel corn, undrained.

Dredge chicken in flour. Melt butter in large skillet, add chicken and cook over medium heat until golden brown. Drain on paper towels and set aside. Reserve drippings in skillet.

Add next 7 ingredients to drippings; cook over low heat until bubbly. Combine rice, corn and half can of soup mixture, stirring well. Spread evenly into a well-greased 13x9x2 inch casserole dish. Arrange chicken over rice mixture and top with remaining soup mixture. Cover and bake at 375 degrees for 35 minutes. This is great made ahead a day or two and cooked when ready to serve.

Cream of Fresh Asparagus Soup

1 lb. fresh asparagus; 1 slice lemon; 1½ cups chicken broth; 2 tbsp. butter; 2 tbsp. flour; 3 cups half and half; salt and pepper to taste; and a pinch of marjoram.

Cook the asparagus; when cooked save the liquid. Remove the tips and set them aside. Add stalks and lemon to the chicken broth and liquid. Cook about 5 minutes, then puree in blender. Melt butter, blend in flour until smooth. Add strained soup and cook 5 minutes more. Add half and half and seasonings. When ready to serve place the asparagus tips in heated soup bowls and pour soup over.

Sherry's Pecan Squares

1¼ cups flour; ½ cup sugar; ½ cup butter, softened; 2 eggs, beaten; ½ cup sugar; ¼ cups honey; 2 tbsp. flour; ¼ tsp. salt; 2 tbsp. butter, melted; 1½ tsp. vanilla; and 1 cup chopped pecans.

Combine 1¼ cups flour and ½ cup sugar in a medium bowl; cut in ½ cup butter with a pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. Press mixture evenly into a greased 9-inch square pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 15 minutes. Combine next 7 ingredients and beat well. Stir in pecans. Pour filling over prepared crust. Bake at 350 degrees for about 25 minutes or until firm. Let cool and cut into squares.

Glorified Coffee

¾ cups milk; ¼ cup instant coffee granules; ¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar; dash of salt.

Heat milk in saucepan. Add instant coffee granules, brown sugar, and salt; stir over low heat until well mixed. Serve immediately, piping hot.
