Superintendent search committee named

By Jim Driscoll

The search for a new superintendent to lead the troubled Round Valley Unified School District begins in earnest later this month.

The deadline is April 20 for applicants to submit their names for consideration. A screening committee will meet on the weekend of April 23-24 to review all of the applications and select the names of eight finalists who will be invited to the valley for interviews May 14-15. At the May session, all finalists will be interviewed by the board of trustees and a 12-member citizens advisory committee selected by the trustees at their meeting on Monday night.

The screening committee will consist of trustees Bruce Alexander, Lynda

Phelps, Juliana Yoder, Tim McIsaac and John Ford, as well as Earlene Azbill and Claire Hurt from the citizens advisory committee.

The other members of the citizens advisory committee named Monday night were: Rob Finch, Pat O'Ferrall, Sue Lucchetti, Jim Bequette, Jim Houts, who along with Azbill and Hurt represent the public-at-large: John Miller and Larry Fugman, who will represent school faculty; Cynthia O'Ferrall and Margaret Van Dame, who were named as school staff representatives. The final member of the group will be a student to be named later.

Virginia Hammond is coordinating the search for a new superintendent.

Sex education stirs board meeting

By Jim Driscoll

Parental comments about and objections to a sex education and family life course at the high school produced a highly charged atmosphere Monday night in the multipurpose room during a meeting of the Round Valley Unified School District's board of trustees.

Several parents had petitioned the board to eliminate the course from the high school curriculum, Charline Ford said. She prefers the resources devoted to the course be spent on "regular, basic classes." Sue Lucchetti said she objects to "the values clarification" training in the course, saying she believes it leaves the parent out of the decision-making process.

Sandy Williamson then stated that she attended one of the course's classroom sessions. She said the students were divided into discussion groups which addressed a variety of questions aimed at sorting out who makes decisions about such matters as choice of friends, homework load, the hours one keeps and similar matters. She expressed her belief the questions "undermine" the role of parents in decisions affecting their children.

Evidently departing superintendent Peggy McCabe interpreted the comments to this point as an attack on the course's teacher, Valrie Thompson, and cut loose. "Valrie Thompson...is an exceptionally good teacher...who has absolute integrity...who would do nothing to undermine the parents of her students." Then, her voice cracking with emotion, McCabe said, "I (Continued on page 3)

Sara Hurt fundraiser set

By John Wood

A spaghetti dinner is planned for Tuesday, April 19, from 6 to 7:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room. The proceeds will go towards sending Sara Hurt, one of three 4-H representatives from Mendocino County, to the 4-H Citizenship Conference in Washington, D.C. July 2-9.

Sara is 16-years-old and has been an honor student all through high school. She has been in 4-H almost eight years, starting out on sewing projects and going on to beef showmanship.

She was president of her 4-H group and is now sergeant at arms. In the process of being chosen to represent Mendocino (Continued on page 8)

Summer swimming program in jeopardy

By Jim Driscoll

Round Valley Unified School District's trustees next month expect to decide the fate of a community swimming program for this summer. Traditionally, the school district has budgeted for a lifeguard-swimming instructor and pool maintenance so that swimming lessons can be offered to valley youngsters part of the summer.

Faced with an increasingly severe budget crunch, though, some trustees have begun to wonder if the swimming program is an appropriate use of district funds. The subject came up at the trustees' meeting Monday night with Tim McIsaac and Bruce Alexander doing most of the questioning.

The two expressed their hope a community group of some sort will come forward to take over the program. A variety of possible solutions to the problem were mentioned at the meeting. The most promising would seem to involve forming some sort of pool club with membership dues providing the essential funding for the pool. In return, members of the club would have exclusive access to the pool at designated times.

Leanne Thompson suggested that local high school students be given training to become certified lifeguards eligible to supervise the pool. McIsaac, particularly, liked that idea as a way for young people to have an additional summer employment opportunity in the valley.

Who's 'Czar'?

Editor:

After reading the article in the March 9-15 issue of the Mendocino Grapevine concerning the "Round Valley Power Czar", and his proposal to build additional power plants elsewhere, several statements in the article caught my attention. They were: "He's not here to help Round Valley, like he says all the time." And, "It shows he's just a businessman looking for a place to invest his Eurodollars." And, "Bentnick is a mysterious figure who refuses to disclose his financing." And finally, "His hopes were dashed when a standing room only crowd showed up last October to oppose the project." The first two articles I mentioned were attributed in the article to Ms. Karen Denton-Smith, of the Round Valley Citizens Group.

I have questions.

Were the last two comments those of Ms. Denton-Smith? What help has she or anyone else to offer Round Valley of the magnitude of Mr. Bentnick? How does Mr. Bentnick's pursuing his business interests elsewhere infer that he doesn't care about Round Valley? Is there something wrong about being a businessman? Should everyone, including our local high altitude "farmers" be forced into financial disclosure? And, who says the standing room only crowd showed up to "oppose" the power plant? And how did Stephen Bentnick progress from a businessman to a "baron" to a "power czar" in such a short time?

Daneen McCarty praised

Editor:

Daneen McCarty, winner of the local Lions Club speech contest, travelled to Willits March 17 to participate in the zone contest with winners from Willits and Laytonville.

Daneen spoke on nuclear use and misuse. She did an excellent job and made everyone from Covelo very proud of her. The local Lions hope she will enter the contest again next year.

Drama program thanked

Editor:

Bravo and a big thank you to the Round Valley Elementary School drama players.

On Wednesday, March 30, 1983, the entire student body of Laytonville Elementary School was privileged

"WHICH ROBBERY DO YOU WANT TO REPORT - THIS REFUND YOU GOTTA PAY ... OR THOSE THUGS WHO TIED YOU UP?"

and thrilled as they were treated to two presentations, "Love or Money" and "How the Coyote Got Its Black Nose."

We congratulate and applaud the following students: Rick Spence, Molly Fiorella, Cindy Hoaglen, Deanna McCarty, Terry Britton, Jennifer Stroble, Gillian Gahagan, Marlo Freeman, Doran Lincoln, Latissa Sergeant, Stephanie Britton, Kim Winscott and William Pickett.

Mr. Frank Breathing is unquestionably the dynamic impetus required as the students' instructor and director. His sensitivity and commitment to the students is a very warm experience to observe.

A very special thanks goes to those parents that accompanied the students and provided the transportation and moral support.

The administration, staff and student body of Laytonville Elementary School applaud the outstanding efforts of all concerned.

Play's helpers thanked

Editor:

We would like to publicly thank the many parents, friends and community members who donated time to make our musical "Once Upon a Mattress" a success.

We thank Paul Brower, Joan Phillips, Diana Fairbanks and Karl Baschal for the many hours they spent rehearsing for the orchestra. We especially thank LoRiver for the weeks she donated to designing and making the lovely costumes. We thank Jim Haslip for his support. We would also like to thank Kathy Sawley, Jennifer Stegall, Maggie Van Dame, Vona McCombs, Norma Dean, Amy Wormington, Scott Driver, Bill Emery, Roberta Hurt, Linda Young, John Miller, Claire Hurt and all of the other people who proved that we can all work together as a community for a positive goal.

It should be noted that all props, costumes and set pieces that were not donated were paid for by ticket receipts. The cost to the district was a minimal $260 for play royalties, a small amount for the opportunity for our students to experience all aspects of play production. We feel that the production was beneficial to everyone involved.

Last, we would like to thank the Round Valley News for printing our stories and helping us to advertise the play.

Sex education, 'harassment' stir school board meeting

(Continued from page 1) watch what's happening here and never in my life have I seen anything like it. These teachers are good... for God's sake give them a chance...I cannot live in this negative environment...do you know what it has done to your children? If I didn't have so much loyalty to these teachers I'd walk out of here right now."

After several parents responded to the outburst, trustee Tim McIsaac moved in, saying, "We've lost control of the meeting...it's mass hysteria here." He then moved to refer the class curriculum back to a parent-teacher committee, which had become moribund in recent months, with specific instructions the class will continue pending further study. Board president Bruce Alexander and McCabe noted throughout the discussion that the sex education part of the course is not mandatory. Students may attend the class only if a parent has signed a statement authorizing enrollment.

The discussion concluded with McIsaac saying he is sympathetic to the parents' concerns but he said he wouldn't take any action on the course "without appropriate study and recommendations." Alexander, too, said he has reservations about state mandates which dictate course structure and expressed his hope parents will again become active on the sex education and family life curriculum committee.

The prelude to the evening's charged atmosphere occurred early in the meeting when Karen Denton-Smith cited "a lot of negativity...going on about the school" and wondered why one teacher has had parents in his class continuously for three weeks. She said the activity "implies a distrust of this person's capabilities" and borders on harassment. Several parents who have been in the classroom Smith evidently cited rose to say the teacher had made a point of making them feel welcome and had treated them courteously.

Board members, school administrators and parents then fell into a discussion of the advisability of limiting the number of visits which can be made to any single teacher's class. Ultimately, both board members and administrators felt that would be an unwise move noting that it is a "dilemma" to invite parents to observe their children's classroom environment and then have to face the prospect of turning the adults away because the visitor quota might have been reached for a given class.

In other matters addressed by the trustees:

-Personnel: Accepted the resignation of Mike Sobrero; he was a teacher at the Yolla Bolly Continuation High School before going on a leave of absence last year. Granted a year's leave of absence to Joanne Grunbaum, who had requested the time off to resume studies.

-Substitute Teachers: The board adopted a declaration affirming there is an insufficient number of properly credentialed substitute teachers in the valley to comply with a recent state law requiring substitutes to hold a teaching credential or bachelor's degree. The declaration grants the district an additional year and a half to continue operating just as it has in the past.

4 eggs, separated; 1/4 tsp. cream of tartar, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup sugar; 3 tbsp. fresh lemon juice; 1 tbsp. grated lemon rind; 1/8 tsp. salt; and 2 cups whipping cream, whipped.

Beat egg whites until frothy, add cream of tartar beating slightly. Gradually add 1 cup sugar, beating mixture until stiff and glossy. Do not underbeat. Spoon meringue into a well greased 9-inch pie pan. Use spoon to shape meringue into pie shell, swirling sides high. Bake at 275 degrees for 50 minutes. Cool.

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Gradually add 1/2 cup sugar, lemon juice, lemon rind and salt. Cook in top of double boiler, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Cool.

Fold half of whipped cream into lemon mixture, spoon into meringue shell and spread evenly. Cover and refrigerate 12 hours [if you can wait that long]. Top with remaining whipped cream.

and seek the support of the community in sponsoring them in the walk-a-thon.

Forest share announced

Mendocino County can expect to receive about $205,000 as its share of fiscal 1983 fees collected by the Mendocino National Forest, according to an estimate recently released by forest supervisor James L. Davis Jr. Mendocino is one of six counties containing parts of Mendocino National Forest.

Through timber sales, grazing permits, recreation fees, mineral leases, and land use charges, 25 percent of the revenue collected is returned to the counties by the Forest Service, but the final payment could vary as it is based upon the actual amount collected.

Davis said the payments will be based upon fiscal year 1983 (Oct. 1, 1982, to Sept. 30, 1983), and the estimates are given at this time so local budgets may be planned.

Turkey hunting season is open

By Albert H. Stegall
Turkey hunters may shoot only gobblers with visible beards and are restricted to one bird per day and two per season. Only bow and arrow or shotguns may be used and the size of the shot may not be larger than no. 2.

The 37-day season, which encompasses all counties of the state except San Diego, where there is no open season, will close May 1. Shooting hours are sunrise to 12 noon throughout the season.

There are a few turkeys on this side of Mendocino National Forest, but they are rarely seen. Some areas where the birds have been seen are Billy Williams Ridge and the lower areas of the Black Butte River. Mendocino County is one of the leading counties in the state for turkey hunting, the best areas being on private land where written permission is required before hunting.

Wild turkeys favor habitat of black oak, blue oak and digger pine mixtures found in foothill areas.

They feed on acorns, insects, grasses and wild oats.

There are plans by the Department of Fish and Game to plant wild-trapped turkeys in the Round Valley area to build up new populations.

Abalone season underway

By Albert H. Stegall

sunrise to one-half hour after sunset. The daily limit is four.

The Department of Fish and Game cautions sport fishermen to consult the Sport Fishing Regulations Summary brochure for special gear provisions and rules on retaining, replacing, caring for and transporting abalone.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. plans a power outage for all of Round Valley from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday, April 20, weather permitting.

PG&E crews will be working to repair damage to electric power transmission lines in the mountains west of Covelo caused by slides this winter. The company expects the work done during this planned outage will minimize the risk of unplanned outages which could result from fallen power lines.

In the event of inclement weather, the work will be performed Thursday, April 21, instead.

Varsity baseball team loses opener

By Kevin Morris
The Round Valley Mustangs' baseball team went to Point Arena for their league opener and came away losers, 9-1.

After a long ride over, the Mustangs came out fired up and ready to play. The first two innings were scoreless behind the fast ball of Darren Avalos. In the third inning the Pirates blew the game open and scored four runs off several Mustang mistakes.

The Mustangs started to get things straight in the fifth and scored their only point. In the bottom of the fifth the Mustangs brought in a fresh pitcher and a newcomer to the mound, Arvid Hoaglen. With this the Mustangs closed the game and the Pirates scored only two off Hoaglen's deadly slow curve.

This year's head coach,

Ed Whipple, said about the game, "We know our weaknesses now and what we have to work on. It was an experience for the team and me and remember it was only our first game of the year."

The Round Valley Mustangs baseball roster for this year is:

Lorin Avalos, senior, catcher; Arvid Hoaglen, senior, shortstop-pitcher; Kevin Morris, senior, first base; Kenny Bossom, senior, outfield; Rory Martion, senior, outfield;

Darren Avalos, junior, shortstop-pitcher; Lloyd Brown, junior, second base; Chuck Brinkerhoff, junior, outfield; Shannon Barney, sophomore, third base; Ronnie Conner, sophomore, outfield;

Middle Eel watershed report released

The "Middle Fork Eel River Watershed Erosion Report" was recently released by the Northern District of the California Department of Water Resources, located in Red

Bluff. This reconnaissance level report is the fourth in a series of erosion studies prepared by the district on northwestern California river basins.

The purpose of the Middle Eel report was to determine the causes of erosion and sources of sediment in the watershed and to develop a broad data base which could be useful to land managers. It includes maps of geology, landslides, timber harvest and burn history, as well as hydrologic and turbidity data. Turbidity samples were collected in the drainage area during the 1981-82 rainfall season.

The Middle Fork Eel River Basin is part of the fastest-eroding drainage basin in North America, the Eel River Basin. Steep slopes and weak geologic material combine with intense winter storms to produce rapid erosion and landslide rates. Coupled with these natural conditions, human activities have accelerated erosion and landsliding and increased turbidity and sedimentation in the river system.

Authors of the report were Stephen M. James, assistant engineering geologist, and Sari Sommarstrom, watershed planning specialist.

Copies are available for reference at the Covelo Community Library and at the Mendocino National Forest, Covelo Ranger District office, or may be purchased for $15 (plus 6% tax) from: Department of Water Resources, P.O. Box 607, Red Bluff, CA 96080.

Covelo Women's Club serves the valley

By Sue Lucchetti
Present members of the Covelo Women's Club are taking their turn in a long tradition of women working together to support community projects in the valley.

The club, formerly known as the Covelo Junior Women's Club, evolved from the Covelo Women's Improvement Club. The first meeting of the junior women's club was held in March 1957. Phyllis Lukkason served as president of the group; Pat Terry was vice president; Peg Schmidbauer, secretary; and Marlene Bauer, treasurer. The club then had 35 members, approximating present membership 26 years later.

The first project of the club was to honor members of Augusta Chapter #80, Order of the Eastern Star, with a dinner on the occasion of their 75th anniversary. Among numerous other activities and projects, the group sponsored a Valentine's dance, an annual mother-daughter banquet and supported the Round Valley Little League.

In 1958 the club began looking at plans for a proposed community swimming pool, and, in addition to other fundraising activities for the March of Dimes and Cancer Fund, as well as sponsoring community projects such as Easter egg hunts for valley children, had in two years raised over $8,000 toward the community pool.

By July 1962 the club accepted a $23,592 bid on the pool and work was underway. The pool itself was donated by the Frank Crawford family to be built in memory of the William A. and Emily G. Crawford family. The remainder -- concrete decking, fencing, filter system and heating system -- was made possible by community donations and memorial contributions.

On September 28, 1962, the pool dedication was held and the school trustees received the pool as a gift from the junior women's club to the Round Valley school district.

Last summer the club contributed funds for portable restroom facilities to be installed at the pool. The club presently is interested in working with the community and the school district to enable the pool to be open this summer and to provide swimming lessons for valley youth. Community members with suggestions for implementing these plans are asked to share their ideas with club members.

The club also donated "Andy" to the Volunteer Fire Department and for the past three years has co-hosted, with the Round Valley Chamber of Commerce, the annual appreciation dinner for Covelo volunteers.

Other ongoing projects sponsored by the club include an annual fashion show begun in 1962, annual presentation of a scholarship to a local graduating senior and an emergency relief fund maintained by the club and used to help community members affected by disasters, such as loss of a home to fire.

The club welcomes new members, who are invited to attend the monthly meetings held the third Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the social hall of the Presbyterian Church.

Informal Hauser meeting slated

The public is invited to an informal gathering to meet and talk with Assemblyman Dan Hauser on Friday, April 22, at 5:30 p.m. at the Saturday Afternoon Club, at W. Church and S. Oak, in Ukiah. Hauser will give a brief update on legislative action, and then the floor will be open to questions and comments from the public.

The meeting is the first in a series of open public forums, sponsored by the Mendocino County Democratic Central Committee, set up to encourage representatives to keep open the lines of communication with the people they represent throughout their terms in office. "Valuable dialogue begun during the campaign all too often ceases once a candidate takes office," says committee member Ellen Drell. "We hope these public forums will keep us in closer touch with our politicians and ultimately provide us better, more responsible government."

The meeting is free and open to all, regardless of party affiliation. Refreshments will be served.

Deadline extended

Mendocino County Historical Society announces that its historical contest for art and essays has been extended to April 27.

The society said it feels some of the teachers have not been notified far enough in advance for the scheduling. Two separate contests are being held for the fourth, fifth and six grade levels on the subject: Mendocino County History: Fact or Folklore.

into the society's headquarters by April 30. Cash prizes of more than $300 will be awarded, as well as yearly memberships in the society. The essay contest will be judged by Annette Parks. The art contest will be judged by Francine Bearden.

Awards will be announced at the May 8 meeting of the society in Willits. Further information may be obtained by contacting Lila Lee at 462-2039 evenings.

Ag association plans farmers' market here

By Walter Smith
The newly formed Round Valley Agricultural Association is preparing the groundwork for an outdoor farmers' market to begin sometime in early summer. The market will provide an opportunity for local farmers and gardeners to sell their fresh vegetables and fruits, nuts, eggs, honey and other produce in season, probably on a once-a-week basis to start with.

The RVAA is an informal group which meets once a month around the common concern of improving the agricultural economy of the valley. The farmers' market has become a project of the association as an obvious way of helping local growers and because it is felt that an open-air market will be an enjoyable addition for many people to Covelo's calendar.

The group has also talked about marketing of produce to points outside the valley, the potential for more land to be in food production, and the possibilities for agriculturally-based commercial enterprises such as commercial canning, juicing, solar drying of fruits and vegetables, small dairy and cheese making operations.

We hope to see new faces next week and invite everyone's participation in the farmers' market. For more information please call Walter or Karen Smith at 983-6984.

Library benefit slated

A Chinese Journey, a benefit slide program for the Covelo Community Library by David Weitzman, will be shown on Saturday, April 16, at 7:30 in the Fellowship Hall of the Presbyterian Church.

The spring and early summer journey begins in Peking and continues by train, plane and bus north to Shenyang, the old capital of Manchuria; west, deep into China's interior provinces, to Yenan and Sian; then back along the Yangtze River to Nanking and down the coast to Shanghai and Kwangchow (Canton).

Along the way are meetings with Chinese children at the Peking zoo, farmers threshing wheat, musicians and acrobats, iron workers, teachers, doctors and government officials. Each day is filled with visits to schools, clinics, and hospitals, opera, theater, an international gymnastics meet, communes, ancient tombs and new cities, country markets, a Sunday afternoon on Lake Tai. The music of Chinese school children accompanies the slides.

Admission for the evening is $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Site Council members sought

Parents who are interested in serving on the high school site council should contact Dr. James Haslip, principal, either at the high school or the elementary school.

The council next will meet at 7 p.m. on May 3 in the teachers' lounge on the high school campus.

This is an excerpt from a newsletter from Dean and Penny Helland and their three children from Santiago, Chile. Penny is the daughter of Alta English and the late Charles "Pab" English of Covelo. She grew up in Covelo, graduating from Round Valley High, and earned a degree from Oral Roberts University school of nursing. Penny and Dean were married in Covelo. They have been missionaries in Chile for the past several years. Dean, as you must have guessed, is a minister. The following is from the newsletter:

"So much has happened since our last newsletter! We are just getting settled here in Santiago now, and we want to thank you so much for remembering us in prayer as we have been making this move. We ended up renting our house in Concepcion to a nice Christian family, and renting a house for ourselves in Santiago. The Chilean peso has nosedived during the past year in relation to the dollar, making it impractical for us to sell at this time. The rent we are getting meantime for our house goes a long way in making the rent payments in Santiago, so it is working out just fine.

"Santiago is 325 miles north of Concepcion. It is a city of over 4-million inhabitants and sits at the base of the Andes Mountains. It has a semi-desert climate that is far different from rainy Concepcion. We miss being by the ocean, though.

"Our house is part of a two-story duplex; old but with lots of room. It is away from the worst of the smog and is near a special

American school for the American missionary children. This will be excellent for our children Aaron and Michelle, since they have been studying mostly in Spanish in the Chilean system. Matthew is starting pre-kindergarten in a Chilean school which will be good for his Spanish. He is very excited about all of his new friends at school.

"We have a sixteen mile drive to where we attend church in San Bernardo."

Bernice Bloom had company last week from Santa Rosa, her son Terry and her daughter Diana and family. While here they also visited their brother and wife, Randy and Marsha Bloom and children.

Jan Bloom, who has been in Covelo these past several weeks, left for Alaska and a job last Friday. Jan is the son of Jeannine and Arnie Bloom of Covelo.

News from Alta English is that her brother Tom Hill and his wife Betty have moved back to Sacramento from Utah. Tom in recent months underwent serious heart surgery in a hospital in Utah and is still recuperating. The Hills have lived in Louisiana and Utah since moving from California. Tom and his wife, Betty Lieshman Hill, grew up in Covelo.

Jimmy Short and wife visited in Covelo from Eureka where he lives. Jimmy is the son of the now deceased Lindon and Esther Short. Jimmy and his sister Vivian grew up in Covelo and graduated from Round Valley schools.

Clarice Toombs came over from Kelseyville last weekend to visit her many friends and the Faith Tabernacle where she ministered for many years. Pastor Ray Hulls took over in the pulpit when Clarice resigned last year.

Tribly Niesen spent last week in Ukiah where she took care of her youngest son Rodney Niesen and wife's home while they were on vacation. They went to Phoenix, Arizona, to visit their son Danny who is in the Air Force stationed at Luke Air Force Base, near Phoenix.

Michelle Betts, daughter of Robert and Susie Betts, of Fremont, visited her grandparents, the senior John Augustines, in Covelo over the Easter vacation. She came with her aunt and uncle Diane and Phil Short and son Troy from Dixon.

Milton and Marge Dunlap and Edna Henderson made an overnight business trip to Petaluma last week.

Doug Henderson spent a week in Ukiah General Hospital but is doing nicely and hopes to be home soon. While there his sister and husband, Elaine and Jim Smith of Carson City, Nev., visited him.

Jerry and Sonna Hill were here from Santa Rosa last weekend. They visited Jerry's mother, Lilly Hill, and other members of the family. Their main concern was working on their retirement home in the hills west of Covelo.

Don Todd, a lay minister from Potter Valley, filled the pulpit at the Baptist Church in Covelo last Sunday. Accompanying him to Covelo was Pastor Ned Richardson, also from Potter Valley. Pastor Richardson once filled the pulpit at the Presbyterian Church and has many friends in the valley. His wife, Jean, is in Texas visiting her father who is very ill. While here he was a guest of the Tom Moss family.

Stan and Terry Brown spent last weekend at Fort Bragg, celebrating Stan's birthday. One of the highlights of their trip was a birthday dinner at the Wharf.

Around 200 people gathered at the Broiler Steak House in Redwood

Apr. 14, 1983, ROUND VALLEY NEWS—11

Valley to honor Hank and Noreen Lane on their fiftieth wedding anniversary last Saturday night. The party was hosted by their son and daughter and was a complete surprise. Sisters and brothers came from as far away as West Virginia, Texas and Oklahoma and were there to surprise them along with the other guests. Hank and Noreen live in Willits and are well known in Covelo and throughout the county.

Going from Covelo for the occasion were Gary and Yvonne Niesen, Walter and Fred Niesen, Russell and Gertrude Crockett, Tom and Nonie Brown, and John and Charline

Ford and children Larney, Will and Amy.

Darrell and Tina Mill-Ford from Sebastopol were in Covelo last weekend visiting relatives. While here some members of the family made a trip to the snow.

By Jim Hatfield
The Round Valley High School softball team picked up a 3-3 win over Point Arena last Saturday. Senior Kelly Horne pitched a strong game, striking out four and allowing only five hits. She also helped her own cause by collecting two hits for three times at bat.

Suzanne Britton played an excellent defensive game behind the plate as well as going 1 for 3 for the day offensively. Karla Tuttle had the only hit for extra bases as she had a strong double in the second inning. Karla was switched over to first base for the game and did a fine job.

Freshman Serene Bye, playing in her first league competition, picked up two key hits for three times at bat. Sophomore Tonya Anderson played excellent defense at third base in addition to collecting a pair of hits for the Round Valley team. One of her hits included a perfectly executed bunt that advanced a runner. Freshman Tricia Merrifield was assigned the designated hitter role for the game and came through with a timely hit for the offense.

Round Valley victory, they served as good experience for the developing players. The team also got rid of many of the first game "butterflies" that can make such a difference.

The local girls are on the road this week with a practice game in Elk Creek on Monday, viewing a game between Chico State University and UC-Davis on Tuesday, and another practice game on Wednesday. The girls return home to host the visiting Laytonville "Warriors" tomorrow (April 15) for a very important league game. Game time is set for 3 p.m.

Music in Round Valley plans two spring concerts

Music in Round Valley has scheduled two spring concerts in Covelo. The first concert on April 30 at 8 p.m. will be a selection of vocal works performed by Lucia Scardigno, accompanied by pianist Terry Yee.

The second concert on May 6 will be a variety of Irish folk songs performed by Mooncoin, a group of musicians from the coast. Both performances will be in the Mormon Hall.

Ms. Scardigno's concert will be a benefit performance with all proceeds going to the Harlow Burgess Scholarship Fund. The fund has been established by friends and relatives of the late Harlow Burgess to award scholarships to deserving local students. The awards will be given each December by Music in Round Valley at its annual Christmas concert.

Ms. Scardigno makes her home in Walnut Creek. She has performed throughout the Bay Area. She has performed with the Marin Opera Company, the North Bay Opera Ensemble, Opera Brava and others. The Independent Journal of San Rafael wrote of Ms. Scardigno in October 1980. "Ms. Scardigno turned in some incredible vocal work for her first major professional role. Her high pianissimos, particularly in the first act final love duet with Pinkerton, were admirably controlled. Yet, when she sang the famous 'I Know He'll Return' in the second act, she let loose without a waver."

In Covelo Ms. Scardigno will offer a mixed program of both opera and popular songs. She will be accompanied by Terry Yee, noted San Francisco coach and pianist. Mr. Yee is currently music director of productions of the San Francisco Talent Bank Foundation. He has appeared in several concert series including the Marin Playhouse Modern California Music Center's Music Series. Admission will be $3 for adults and $1.50 for students.
